Artificial Intelligence (AI) has the potential to transform the learning experience of students at all ages with its capabilities to mimic human thinking and responses; what can AI offer for students and instructors? Can AI provide better learning chances for female students in Egypt? This presentation will try to answer these questions and spotlight on some good examples of AI applications in different learning settings.

IS THE WORLD PAYING ATTENTION?

Iranian Women and the International Implications of Social Unrest

December 6, 2022, 12:00 pm via Zoom

On November 8, 2022, the Biden Administration issued a Notice on the Continuation of the National Emergency With Respect to Iran that reminded that US "relations with Iran have not yet normalized, and the process of implementing the agreements with Iran, dated January 19, 1981, is ongoing." The current focus on the women's revolt in Iran suggests that an evolution of the relationship between the West and the Islamic Republic is unlikely. Yet, there is also a history of distinctions and differences between the US and Europe in relation to Iran that culminated in the disagreements over the nuclear deal. What is the current state of affairs in Iran and in Western approaches to Iran? Is an evolution possible, either in terms of regime transformation or in terms of new relationship with the Islamic Republic? Are we forever stuck in 1981? The European Union Center organizes a panel with prestigious experts on Iran to discuss the question of the current revolt and the evolution of International relations under the pressure of current events.

This event is co-sponsored by the Center for South Asian and Middle Eastern Studies and the Women & Gender in Global Perspectives Program. For security reasons, attendance at this point will be limited to UIUC, UIC, and UIS students, faculty, and staff, and the names of the panelists will not be publicized before the event.
